Welcome To ActiVeda The Herbal Life Activator

With a mission of “bringing the traditional Indian science of Ayurveda to the society in a holistic and contemporary form”, ActiVeda was established having an elaborated R&D, manufacturing and marketing infrastructure. We understand that in this fast-paced life, everyone has multiple roles to play and healthy living often gets neglected. Even when, someone decides to go the natural way, what one’s encounter is chemicals and artificiality. We acknowledged this pain and decided to present the solutions in the most natural and holistic way. All our products are developed around the basic principle of Ayurveda ”Body has the power to heal itself, given the right nutrition and environment at the right time”.Our products are 100% natural with all the raw materials sourced directly from the farmers, researched and manufactured with stringent quality controls in a GMP certified unit.
