Welcome to Harshvardhan's Laboratories Pvt. Ltd.

Harshvardhan's Laboratories Pvt. Ltd. (HLPL) was set up in 1998, and it has since marked its presence as a significant player in Indian animal health. HLPL is a privately held company, which runs with full quality and innovation recognition by virtue of its ISO 22000:2005- and FAMI QS-accredited facility. In fact, these certifications confirm the stringent compliance of the company with international standards for food safety and feed safety management systems respectively. From an animal health and nutrition standpoint, HLPL's core business encompasses full Animal Health Products and Services across the value chain of the Animal Health and Nutrition Industries. This holistic practice means that many different angles in the industry may be catered to-from prevention to therapeutics. The last few years have also strengthened the relationship of HLPL with the top Animal Health Product (AHP) players in the world. Thus, they have aptly received the recognition of being a "Partner of Choice," as they are highly regarded in the relationship of interdependence between partners as a strong symbol of reliability, expertise, and commitment toward mutual success. HLPL continuously brings value products and services to customers because of the quality outlook and strategic partnerships it has built around itself.
