Welcome to Medicalbulkbuy

With the inception of GVS Healthcare Products in 1998, we have been in the clinical and home care equipment business for over 2 decades. Our organization was founded by Mr. Venu Gopal Gadde to create an establishment that would bring all kinds of clinical and patient home care equipment on one platform. From providing medical equipment for use in hospitals to making home care products available for patients, our expertise has been growing along with the market. The growing demand for medical devices in the market gave birth to GVS Enterprises Pvt. Ltd. A segment that would diversify our approach towards customer service. Medicalbulkbuy was founded in 2015 to introduce a platform that would allow practitioners and patients to find what they are looking for with just the click of a button. We believe that having access to the right kind of home care and medical equipment can change the world. Bridging the gap between end users and efficient patient care tools is our vision and mission and with a team of highly skilled research and quality analysis professionals, MedicalBulkBuy ensures the curation and sourcing of world-class clinical products that enable our users to attain medical equipment of top-notch quality, from the comfort of their homes, delivered straight to their doorstep
