Welcome to The Hemp Enthusiasts

Hempbuti was established by the founder Pallavi, who believes firmly in the power that nature possesses to heal people as well as restore harmony within their lives; as she often says, “Nature has all the tools necessary for us to heal ourselves.” Hempbuti was born from the founder's experience helping her sister via medical cannabis during her battle with cancer, and thus sparked a desire to educate others on the benefits of hemp for health and wellness. After resigning from a successful law firm, she made the commitment to dedicate her time and energy toward natural healing and holistic living. By combining ancient wisdom (traditional knowledge) with cutting-edge scientific research, hempbuti develops hemp-based, organic, and effective products designed to support individuals’ physical and mental well-being through natural healing approaches. The core values of hempbuti are honesty, integrity, and quality, which are reflected both in how products are developed and tested prior to distribution. In addition to being a provider of wellness products, hempbuti is committed to changing perceptions about hemp in India. Through a focus on purity, innovation, and trust with our customers, hempbuti is committed to promoting healthier and more conscious ways of living for everyone around them.
